Robert Sepehr : Species with Amnesia: Our Forgotten History before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Species with Amnesia: Our Forgotten History:

3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Three StarsBy Charles McNeillNot what I was expecting but a decent read anyway. Needs a little more detail0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great fun readBy Alexander W.Great fun read. Lots of citations. Presents good evidenceOnly criticisms. The book jumps around sometimes and leaves certain jumps without needed context. I wish he would talk more about migration flow out of the caucus region.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great awakening bookBy grace minnellaI found this book a little slow and technical in the beginning; however it was great reading for the rest of the book

Highly advanced civilizations have been here before us, just to be destroyed by some great global catastrophe. But for each race that has died out, another has taken its place, with a selected few holding on to the memories and sacred knowledge of the past race. In our vanity we think we have discovered some of the great truths of science and technology, but we are in fact only just beginning to rediscover the profound wisdom of past civilizations. In many ways, we are like an awakening Species with Amnesia, yearning to reclaim our forgotten past.

About the AuthorRobert Sepehr is an author, producer, and anthropologist specializing in linguistics, archeology, and paleobiology. A harsh critic of the out-of-Africa theory, Sepehr puts forth alternative diffusionist arguments often involving advanced antediluvian civilizations, occult secret societies, ancient mythology, alchemy and astrotheology.
